

AI Escape Room Tekoälyrekka

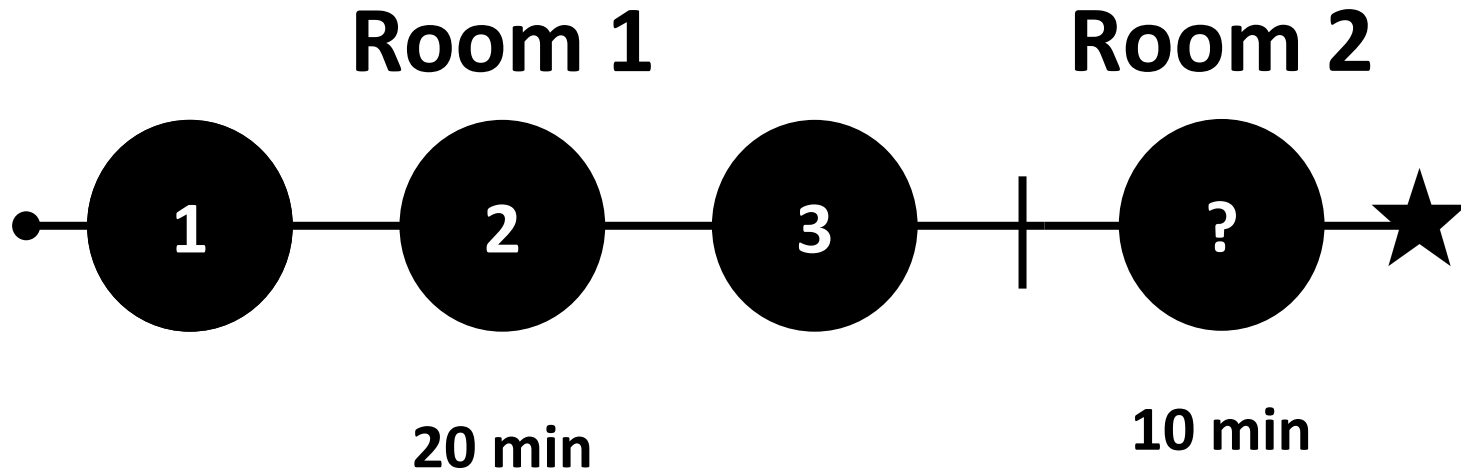

Introduction and instructions

Welcome to the AI Truck!

The Professor Sytytystulppa has dedicated his whole life to learning about the possibilities of artificial intelligence. Recently he has gone missing and all his valuable work on AI may be lost forever. Your mission is to ensure that this doesn't happen.

The professor was very smart and kept everything he has learnt about artificial intelligence in secret places around his office. You must solve the riddles to understand what the Professor discovered about AI and make sure it is not lost with him.

Truck Process

Safety notes

- Please don't force anything to move or to open...if it isn't easy to move or open then please leave it where it is.
- The hints for what you need to uncover will be shown on the screen. If you need an additional hint then you can yell out "HINT PLEASE" and a clue will appear on the screen.
- Be careful of wires and please do not touch.

Notes

- The tasks are designed to be completed as a team so please work together before moving on to the next task.
- There is large red emergency exit button. This is for real emergencies! Please do not press it unless you need to urgently exit the room. It is not part of the game.
- There are always people available to help if something goes wrong, but we hope you relax and and have a great time!

Headsets

- There will be some headsets that you will be able to try on. To fit them securely, there is a wheel in the middle of the strap on the back that can be adjusted.
